Les pieds nus dans l'eau fraîche de la rivière (« Bare Feet in Cool River Water »)

To accompany the discovery of his creation, designer Arthur Jeandat invites you to immerse yourself in his world by listening to "Imaginer l'amour" by French singer Juliette Armanet. This collection is inspired by the enchanting memories of his childhood in the French mountains, evoking the freedom and contemplation offered by the great outdoors.

Arthur Jeandat reflects on his childhood and the sweet memories of sensory experiences—running through expansive landscapes, feeling the sun filter through the clouds, and bare feet caressing the cool river water. Each piece in the collection captures these sensory memories, celebrating the harmony between man and nature. The project is an ode to childhood and natural beauty, blending nostalgia with the essence of the natural world.

Material

Pants and top made from recycled waste materials with various compositions; jewelry and buttons crafted from recycled aluminum, created in collaboration with Maëlle Lezebot, a jewelry design student at HEAD - Genève.
